

Coeur d'Alene Geographic Area Current Condition; Road Densities within Watersheds

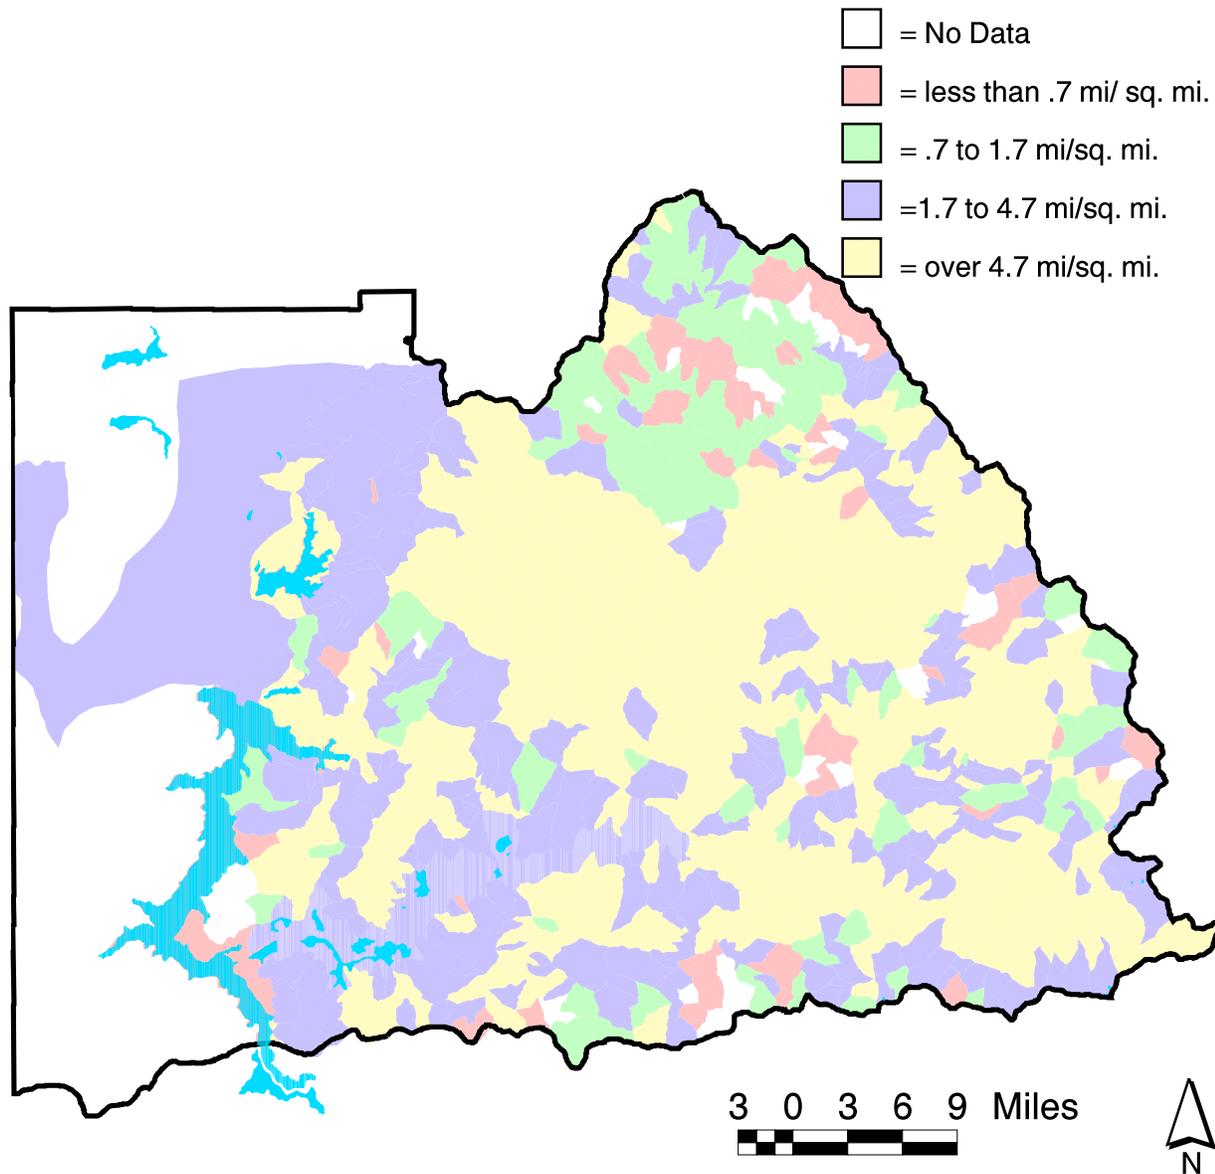

Figure 16. Overall road density within watersheds often relates to watershed and stream condition. The Coeur d'Alene area has very high road densities in areas accessed for timber management. Areas not burned in the 1910 era fires are, for the most part, heavily accessed by roads.